WE NOMINATE

the 225 Princeton women who—together with members of their families and recruits "from next-door"—made possible last week's wonderfully successful "Mothers' March on Polio." Confronted with one of the most unpleasant and treacherous evenings of the winter, a night made hideous for motorists throughout Central and North Jersey by ice-pocked roads and windshield-only visibility, the leaders and workers in the "March" stuck to pre-arranged plans, tramped hundreds of miles while ringing several thousand doorbells in Princeton and its environs and within the space of a few hours succeeded in collecting a record-breaking total which is approaching the $3,000-mark.

It is now quite apparent that anecdotes stemming from last Tuesday's door-to-door solicitation will linger on long after the local March-of-Dimes campaign, sponsored for the second successive year by the Soroptimist Club, has been completed. The first volunteers started on their rounds shortly before 7:00 p.m. and the last reports, with the exception of the continuing "clean-up," were recorded before 10:30. In the interim a former polio patient had canvassed an entire semi-rural neighborhood on foot, the grandmother of a polio-stricken grandson had slithered "in" from an outlying area, youngsters scarcely in their 'teens had helped their mothers with "long blocks" and one mother had been asked whether or not she was "begging."

"The March," the third in Princeton's history, was organized under the generalship of Ruth Schecter Kleinberg and Velda McLeod Altieri, both of whom discovered in the process of making some 500 telephone calls that "busy women" will always find time for one more worthwhile project. The former's husband, owner of Princeton Laboratories (near Township Hall) and also a Research Associate in Biology in the University, made the laboratories available as the "command post" for the evening and it was there that the workers submitted their returns. Parking-areas near the Laboratories were sanded and checked by the Township Police force, while residents of "Hillcrest" saw to it that hot drinks and sandwiches were on hand after the volunteers had done their stints.

Mrs. Altieri, a native of Prince Edward Island, Canada, a Princetonian for some 27 years and a dedicated worker for "good causes," gives all credit to Mrs. Kleinberg and the latter, New York-born and the mother of three daughters, singles out Mrs. Altieri. In turn both have particular praise for the "Captains of the March:" the Misses Catherine and Dorothy Guinn and the Mrses. Henry Abrams, James Arnold, Randolph Applegate, Russell Bettes, Eugene D'Andrea, Gerald Dollar, Herman Cohen, John French, Frank McNamee, Leonard Hymerling, Robert Kann, J. D. Kurtz, John Landis, Joseph Pelikan, Burling Prince, Mary Randolph, Donald Shaw Jr., Thomas Stix, Leslie Vivian, Edna G. Warren and E. I. Wilcox.

For giving of themselves so that others might have opportunities to give; for dramatizing for all of Princeton one of the most appealing of all fund-raising undertakings; for placing self-assumed obligations to others far above personal matters of moment; these 225 women are TOWN TOPICS' nominees for

Cold and Very Dry. Not in the history of the U.S. Weather Bureau, which covers more than 75 years, has less precipitation been recorded during the month of January than the .48 inches that fell last month. The figure is some 50% less than the previous low (in 1916) and far off the normal of 3.16 inches.

It was a cold month, too, but no record-breaker in this respect. The total deficiency was 69 degrees below average, but this is only a shade more than two degrees a day. The average of 32 for the month is well above the 25.5 recorded seven years ago and the all-time low of 20.4, set in 1918.

Thick Ice. The freeze, has however, provided Princeton with the deepest ice on Lake Carnegie in the past 15 years. Patrolman Peter J. McCrohan, who serves as winter recreation supervisor under the Playgrounds Committee, this week reported ice between five and six inches thick.

Various snow falls have kept the skating from being as satisfactory as it might, but several areas between the Washington Road and Harrison Street bridges have been cleared by groups of volunteers. Skating between those two points is recommended, Mr. McCrohan said.

Flooding the ice to produce smoother skating after a freeze has been found unsatisfactory, he reported, primarily because the area involved is too large. Experiments of this nature have produced either lumpy or crusty ice. Mr. McCrohan added that temporary lights for night skating have been erected near the boathouse at the foot of Broadmead, and that permanent lighting is planned opposite the University boat house near Washington Road.

The white flag with the red circle (international code for safe skating) will be flown at the corner of Nassau and Witherspoon Streets as long as the ice is safe. In the event of adequate snow, Linden Lane and Harriet Drive are closed to traffic during the day and from 7 to 10 at night.

The Township Needs a School. The amazing growth of Princeton Township received documentation in an "unofficial" form this week, one that spelled out a major problem for the area's citizens: the needs of its school population.

The board of education made public a brief resume of a school building survey conducted under Dr. Milton Steinhauer of the Rutgers University School of education. The major finding: elementary school population in the Township will jump from the present 826 to an estimated 1350 by June of 1960.

The Tax Picture

Princeton Borough this week got a 38-point boost in its tax rate, while neighboring Princeton Township got a straw in the wind. Despite a 14% increase in school costs, the rate for school purposes in the latter municipality will be eight points lower than last year. Some $20,000 more in State aid and a whopping $2,000,000 jump in rateables are responsible, with the latter bonanza possibly affecting the municipal rate in similar fashion.

Plans to expand Princeton High School and other mounting educational expenses in the borough account for 21 points of the borough increase, Mayor Sturges said. Higher municipal expenditures, offset only partially by greater revenues, will give the borough a rate of $5.30 per $100 of taxable property, in contrast to $4.92 a year ago.

Acquisition of an $18,000 fire engine and installation of a telephonic fire alarm system are two primary reasons for higher borough expenditures. An added outlay of $3,000 for garbage collection, greater sewer and incinerator costs, wage increases and improvement of Marquand Park's facilities were also cited by the mayor.

Do You Know Nature's

SIGN OF DANGER?

Your body's first reaction to illness is generally increased body heat—one of nature's ways of fighting enemies that may strike from inside. Ability to know when such a condition exists is essential—particularly in the case of a young child who cannot tell you what's wrong.

A FEVER THERMOMETER

is a household necessity. We have the easy-to-read kind . . . thermometers with a magnified gauge, so that their accuraey just pops right off them for you to tell instantly what they say.

A ship's captain can't steer without a compass. Don't try to run your household without a fever thermometer that will tell you fast when the first sign of danger is there.

The survey was conducted by interested citizens and constitutes something of a census, with the emphasis on the school-age and potential school-age population. The results show a steady yearly increase since 1946-47, when 303 children were enrolled.

In terms of classrooms, the Township school system will have to undergo a 100 percent increase in order to meet the minimum requirements of the enrollment predicted for five years from now. The board's resume shows that two "temporary" classrooms have already been set up in the Valley Road School for the current influx.

The school has 26 classrooms including the "temporary" ones, but the expected net increase of 524 pupils will require another 26 rooms, pointing to the long-expected need for an additional school.

The survey takes into account the birth and death rates, migration in and out of the Township, children who attend private and parochial schools, and the relative permanence of families.

Dr. Steinhauer found that while a large bloc of Township families remain for short periods through association with the University and other institutions, they will continue to send a fairly constant number of children (1501 to public schools.

Facts and Figures. Boom signs in the Township included figures in the survey which reflect housing and total population growth. Among the findings:

There are 1,654 "permanent" and 333 "temporary"-families in the Township. Based on the average number of persons in each family, the municipality's population can be estimated at 6,860, a jump of 29.5 percent since 1950.

According to the survey, "in the period from 1950 to September 1954, permits were issued for the construction of 641 new dwellings, with the greatest number of these 193 falling in the first eight months of 1954."

School in the Northeast. Based on Dr. Steinhauer's report, the board of education has established the construction of a school in the northeast area of the Township as its first need to meet the school problem. The northeast corner is expected to send 500 children to public school by 1960.

The board has asked for voters' approval of a purchase of a 13-acre school site near the intersection of Little Brook and Roper Roads, the cost not to exceed $8,000. Balloting on the proposal is set for next Tuesday at the school district elections (see below).

Other Schools Under Study. Residents of the Township under the direction of the board of education are currently visiting new schools in a radius around Princeton to gather ideas for up-to-date and economical construction and planning.

Teams will try to visit at least 25 schools in order to prepare reports on architectual planning, construction, and effectiveness as a finished school, as well as information on architects and contractors. Consultations with school board representatives and school superintendents are included in the visits.

Mrs. Francis J. Darke Jr. represents the board of education on the reporting committee. Members at present include Dr. and Mrs. Warren G. Findley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Keiser Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Paul K. Weimer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. John K. White and Harry Volweider. Committee members have been asked to invite an additional couple to make the visits with them.

Balloting on Tuesday. In contrast to last year, when Princeton Township was involved in a six-week battle that saw two slates of four candidates each seeking office, next week's election finds four residents of the municipality seeking three vacancies. The contest developed a scant 24 hours before the deadline for nominations; in the borough, no contest exists.

Incumbents seeking re-election are the Rev. Dr. J. Donald Butler of 50 Southern Way (three children in the Valley Road School), a faculty member at Princeton Theological Seminary for the past 11 years and currently its acting dean; and Mrs. Olga T. Smith of 320 Western Way, a resident of Princeton for the past 14 years who has a son in the eighth grade at Valley Road. Mrs. Smith has taught in Trenton schools, does private tutoring here and has served on a number of state committees representing the board.

Seeking the vacancy created by the decision of Dr. William S. Carpenter not to run again are John W. Landis of 111 Laurel Road, Director of Customer Relations of the Atomic Energy Division, Babcock and Wilcox Co.,

It's New to Us

Spin the Platter. As a result of using too much child labor in the kitchen we found ourselves recently without so much as a cup and saucer to rub together. In this condition we went to Bamberger's to see what we could find in the every-day dish department.

We found that for as little as $3.99, Bamberger's will sell you a 16-piece starter set of every-day pottery, as modern or as traditional as you wish. "Nassau"—it's called that in Princeton, anyway—it is a cream-colored set crossed with irregular stripes of green, rose or gold.

The cups are cream color, plain. Buy two starter sets in different colors and mix them when you set the table. If you want a full set, you may buy the whole 53-piece lot.

"Wild Rose" offers 53 pieces, too: eight place settings for $29.98. It's a soft pattern with pearl grey background and a small naturalistic rose and leaf in its center. The sugar and creamer are plain grey and could be used independently with other sets—good comfortably large handles on these two accessory pieces.

A frost white pottery has simple shapes and no design whatever — striking against a bright cloth. There's a giant coffee pot in this set that has a hospitable air about it. "Pebbleford" is plain modern with a gritty look—but not a gritty feel, we hasten to add—in sand, teal blue or green.

Those who wish to set their sights higher may look at the new Lenox "Pine" pattern, at $18.95 for 5 pieces. A rich cream background shows off the muted green and brown of pine needles and cones. This china has rim plates and a footed cup.

Harvest for Spring. Cottons, linens and silk prints continue to arrive at the women's dress shops. The French Shop at 20 Nassau likes a sateen cotton with a matte glaze that's washable and extremely wearable.

One, at $23.95, for afternoons or cocktail time, is oyster white with rose and grey flower sprays. The nylon velvet that serves for a trim is just as washable as the dress.

Light blue linen is trimmed with narrow matching bows in blue satin. An unusual black linen has coffee-colored cuffs and band at the deeply cut V-neck. Big black buttons close the narrow skirt. Silks or silk chantungs are about $35.

Two of these are all-season dresses, excellent for city wear with their cover-up jackets. One is navy with small green and white mushrooms sprouting on it, three-quarter sleeves on the jacket, brief caps on the dress. Another navy has pin dots in yellow, red or green, a sleeveless dress and matching jacket.

One of the best looking cottons in these regular-size dresses has a beige background with leaves in several shades of green, pink clover blossoms, olive green velvet for a belt and occasional green sequins on the leaves of the bodice.

A pique dance dress for the south is white with wide pink (blue) sash inserted at the waist, banded on each side with a row of white flowers made of braid and ball fringe. No sleeves, square neck front and back.

Old and New. Books at the Witherspoon Art and Book Shop on Spring Street may be newly off the boat from France as they may go back to your great-grandfather's day. The new French ones are paper-backs that look just like our drugstore cowboys until you discover that they are in French with such authors as Zola, Proust, Colette, Sartre, Malraux and so on. "Les Livres de Poche" are 45c and 55c.

Another new book, this one in English and written for children, is "Child's Story of St. Frances Cabrini," bearing the imprimatur of the Archbishop of Los Angeles and illustrated without the mawkishness one finds so often in children's religious books.

This shop has, as you know, an excellent collection of books on Civil and Revolutionary Wars and a fine assortment of Princetoniana. The latest and happiest of these Princeton books is "The Princeton Book of 1879," "A Series of Sketches Pertaining to the History, Organization and Present Condition of the College of New Jersey."

There are essays on Princeton and Science, Literature and the Church, descriptions of campus life and even—it must have been a fabulously expensive book in its day—photographs of Clio, Whig, the old library and a campus that who has two children in the township schools, and John K. White of Roper Road, head of the Engineering Division of American Houses, Inc., who has one child in Stony Brook kindergarten. All terms to be filled are for three years.

In the borough, three-year candidates include Irving W. Mershon, 159 Nassau Street, a member of the board since 1931, its current clerk, and long in the insurance business here; Roger J. O'Kane, 40 Wiggins Street, employment manager of the Delaval Steam Turbine Co. in Trenton, an incumbent with Mrs. Mershon; and Mrs. Thelma C. Young, 67 Olden Avenue, a Princetonian for 20 years and a mother of three children in the borough system.

Seeking the two-year term created by the resignation of Dr. Elizabeth H. Cawley, former board president, is Mrs. Jean E. Perkins, 80 Murray Place. A Princetonian for the past four years, she has two children in borough schools.

"Packet" Bought by Kilgore. Charles H. LaTourette, editor and publisher of "The Packet" for more than 37 years, announced this week that the town's oldest newspaper has been sold to Bernard Kilgore.

Mr. Kilgore, a resident of Pretty Brook Road, is president and publisher of the "Wall Street Journal," nationwide business and financial newspaper. He joined the "Journal" as a writer in 1929 and became its managing editor in 1941 and president four years later. He has been a resident of Princeton for more than a dozen years.

Mr. LaTourette took over "The Packet" at the close of World War I. He will continue to be associated with the paper's editorial activities.

Owner of $750 Finally Found. A telephone call from John J. Collins of the Kuller Travel Agency solved for Borough Police the mystery of the ownership of an unclaimed roll of $100 bills found last week on Nassau Street. Police had been puzzled for the better part of 24 hours after John W. Traegler of the Princeton-Kingston Road had turned in $750 to them.

Anthony J. Belardo of 34 Alden Avenue, Trenton, had unknowingly dropped the money on Nassau Street just as he was entering the Kuller agency to pick up airplane tickets he had reserved to Florida. Having just come from Trenton, however, he thought he must have lost the roll of bills—seven $100 bills and one $50—there, so the Trenton police were the only ones notified.

Shortly afterward, Mr. Traegler, a vice-president of the First National Bank of Princeton, found the money (held together by a clip) and took it to police headquarters. Borough officers were mystified when the day passed without inquiry about a sum this large.

Next morning, however, Mr. Collins heard the story of Mr. Traegler's "find" and called Mr. Belardo. The latter now has two tickets to Florida plus several hundred dollars, while borough police are no longer puzzling over what to do with an unclaimed $750.

YM-YW Drive at $337,542. Reports Monday evening after 10 days of solicitation brought the YMCA-YWCA Building Fund to $337,542, nearing the half-way point in the drive to erect a new "community house" for the service and recreation organizations.

The teams organization has reported $59,542, while special gifts totalled $278,000. The Kenneth Hawthorne section with $24,266 continues to lead among the three sections of the teams organization.

The leading Divisions are those headed by Mrs. W. R. Babcock (86% of quota) and Charles Hurford (78%). Four teams, headed by those of P. R. Rogers (151%) and Thomas Huntington (126%) have already topped their goals. Teams led by Simeon Moss and Mrs. G. H. Hunt are in third and fourth place.

Among the gifts due to be reported this Thursday is one of $5,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Shouse of the Lincoln Highway. Largest received to date by the teams organization, the contribution has been termed "unusually generous" by campaign leaders.

Mr. Shouse, unable to continue in his work as a house builder in recent months, was a winner in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes last March. Taxes claimed a major portion of his winnings and Mr. Shouse has invested what remains to provide income if he is unable to return to work.

According to workers in the campaign his gift to the YM-YW Building Fund represents a considerable part of his only source of income. It will be used as a memorial to landscape the courtyard for the proposed building.

ed of driving while intoxicated and unable to pay a $275 fine. His case was heard by Magistrate Paul R. Chesebro, who also revoked the license of James Reuter, Princeton Junction, for six months on a charge of racing another car on Nassau Street. Reuter paid a $25 fine.

Fined $4 each for going through "stop" signs were Mrs. Charlotte Daub, Edgerstoune Road; Sidney Ratner, 11 Cleveland Lane; Mrs. Clara Nelson, 110 Witherspoon Street; Mrs. Nannette Craig, Lawrenceville Road; Miss Mabel Williamson, R. D. 3; and Rex Goreleigh, Lower Alexander Street. The latter was also charged with driving without his glasses. Frederick L. Arnold, 152 Linden Lane, and Mrs. Effie Ramsey, 12 College Road, paid $5 for passing red traffic lights.

In Trenton, the Department of Public Safety announced that it had revoked the license of Eugene F. Hollander, R. D. 1, for 90 days. He has been convicted of three speeding charges.

Truck Center to Open. A completely equipped truck center for the Trenton-Princeton area will be opened next Thursday, February 10, by the International Harvester Company. Open house will be held that day at the new location, 2058 Brunswick Avenue, Trenton, on U. S. 1.

Models of a wide variety of International Trucks will be on display, with factory-trained mechanics ready to service any make of truck six days a week. Fred Shaw has been appointed branch manager for the new location, while John Wurpel is the service foreman. (For additional details, see the advertisement on page 11.)

Mardi Gras Dance Set. Junior faculty wives and the Wyman Club will give a Mardi Gras Dance on Saturday, February 12, in Proctor Hall of the Graduate College, starting at 9 p.m. Mrs. D. J. Sabatine of 224-A Halsey Street is the ticket chairman.

A French theme has been adopted for the dance. Entertainment will include a magician and a singer, and music will be furnished by a five-piece orchestra. More on Morven

A little matter of $160,000 is all that is apparently preventing Morven, 250-year old residence on Stockton Street, from becoming the New Jersey governor's mansion.

Last year, the Legislature appropriated $67,575 to renovate the pre-Revolutionary home, which former Governor Edge gave to the State. However, a later estimate for complete repairs was set at $225,000 and a citizens' committee was named by Governor Meyner to study the wide discrepancy and other attendant problems.

The proposal is not yet dead, since Governor Meyner has asked the Legislature to re-appropriate the unexpended balance of some $61,000. The historic dwelling was damaged on one occasion by vandals after it passed into the state's hands.

A buffet supper will be served at 11 o'clock. All members and their guests have been asked to dress as much like their "country cousins" as possible. The firehouse will be decorated to resemble a barn.

The committee in charge of the dance is headed by Stewart Bell. He will be assisted by Arthur Bremen, John Cashill, Andrew Cupples, Robert Davison, Arthur Gallant, Leo McCloskey, Elmer McHugh, Robert McHugh, John Markuson, Elmer Rodweller, Raymond Rodweller, William Rodweller, Edward Swinnerton and John Van Marter.

Following his address will be a report on college affairs by Joseph B. Shane, vice-president of Swarthmore. There will be an opportunity to meet both Dr. and Mrs. Prentice and Mr. and Mrs. Shane after the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Organized last year as "The Swarthmore Club of Princeton," it was recently expanded to include alumni from a wider area of central New Jersey with Princeton as its geographical center. Officers and committee chairmen of the club include J. S. Donal, Jr., president; Miss Shirley Davis, vice-president; Mrs. Stanley C. Smoyer, secretary-treasurer; James A. Industrial Expansion

A major industry will be added to the Mercer County area within the next two years when the Bristol-Myers Company moves into nearby Hopewell Township. Preliminary plans for the construction of a sizeable one-story factory were announced this week by the drug manufacturing firm but it was pointed out that the building is not yet in the blueprint stage.

Freeholder Edward A. Thorne, Chairman of the Mercer County Industrial Commission, confirmed the fact that approximately 450 acres are involved in the land transaction. On completion, the plant will boost the county's ratables and will add materially to employment opportunities in the area.

Mr. Thorne said he understood that the Delaware River will serve as the principal source of water supply for manufacturing purposes. Bristol-Myers will make the new pain-relieving product, Bufferin, and other tablet products.

News of the Churches

"University of Life" Meeting. The pre-Lenten lecture discussion series sponsored by the Princeton Methodist Church will consider the topic "Faith and Hope" at the meeting Wednesday evening in the church. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Hans Hofmann, guest lecturer for this year's "University," is speaking on the general theme, "What Does It Mean to Live by Faith?" Next week's lecture will be the third in the series on this subject.

The program will begin at 6 with a covered-dish supper followed by group singing led by Mrs. W. M. Young and Mrs. Donald Williams. Classes begin at 7:15 and Dr. Hofmann will lecture for about 50 minutes, leaving a period for questions and discussion.

Children in the Primary group are studying "The City" under Mr. Robert Shaw. Juniors and Intermediates have been meeting with David Meekhof. Nursery care is provided for the youngest children.

This series is sponsored by four Methodist Church groups; the Commission on Education, Rona Webb, chairman; the Committee on University of Life, Dr. Chester A. McKinney, chairman; the Committee on Social Life, Raymond Welshon, Chairman; and the circles of the Women's Society of Christian Services.

Final "Panorama" Scene. The last in the series of "Mission Panorama" lectures sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church will be given Wednesday by the Rev. John S. Healey. There will be a congregational supper at 6:45 and the Rev. Healey will speak at 8. He will discuss his work in the Ruhr with refugees and orphans from the Eastern Zone of Germany under the general title, "The Christian Situation in Germany."

The Rev. Mr. Healey, a Fraternal Worker of the Presbyterian Church, spent five years in the Ruhr. He is now at Princeton Theological Seminary doing graduate work.

Union Services. The Vesper service at 5 this Sunday will be held in the Chapel of the First Presbyterian Church under the leadership of the Junior High Department of the Sunday School. At the 8 p.m. service Sunday, Dr. William L. Tucker will speak from the pulpit of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. David York, minister of music for the Second Presbyterian Church, will be in charge of music for the union services in the month of February.

Text Book Drive Planned. Current text and reference books in English or French which give a good picture of American life will be collected in a drive conducted on the University campus and in the community. The books will be used to form a library in South Vietnam for students and faculty who have left Hanoi University, now in the hands of the Communists.

The drive, to be held this Thursday through Saturday, is part of a nation-wide effort sponsored by the Young Adult Council, a coordinating council of 16 different national youth organizations. The campaign in the Princeton community will be carried on through the area churches.

Music in Princeton

McCARTER THEATRE

Nicholas Harsanyi, conductor of the Princeton Symhpony Orchestra, again must be congratulated for bringing another interesting program of great music to Princeton. His program in the McCarter Tuesday consisted of the Symphony No. 82 in C Major "L'Ours" by Haydn, the premier of Concerto Grosso by Warren Martin, Beethoven's Concerto No. 4 in G Major, Opus 58, and Intermezzo from the Hari Janos Suite by Kodaly.

Though the orchestra did not attain its customary level of technical proficiency, it played with hearty vigor and spirit. The result was that Haydn's Vivace movements were far more palatable than his more delicate Allegretto and Menuetto. Uneven entrances and ragged phrasing are always more obtrusive in slower sections than in faster ones. Despite these imperfections, the over-all line of the Haydn Symphony was present; and some details, such as the impetuous introduction, the interplay between strings and woodwinds in the Allegretto, and the rhythmically compelling motive played above a bagpipe-like drone of the lower strings in the Vivace were quite effective.

Warren Martin uses the seventeenth century Concerti Grossi of Corelli and Handel only as a jumping off point. His Concerto Grosso is clearly music of the 20th century. From the drum roll opening of the Adagio through the final Presto movement, his work captures and sustains the listener's interest.

The first important theme is introduced by the piano—capably played by the composer—and was repeated respectively by the violins and solo horns. These instruments comprised the concertino. (Why were not the horns placed in a more conspicuously forward position? Had they been placed closer to the solo violin and piano their solos as well as their structural function in the piece would have been more clearly evident.)

The Adagio movement moved "attacca" into the rhythmically vital Allegro, which ended with a clever octave leap flourish in the oboe. The Adagio was distinguished by a lovely chorale played by the brass, which utilized material previously exposed in the second movement.

The final Presto movement was filled with fine ideas which were excitingly developed. But each time the piano played the theme which began with the intervals of a fifth and sixth—B, C sharp, D sharp — the tutti nearly drowned out this attractive theme. Either the orchestra was playing too loud or this section is too heavily orchestrated. All in all, Mr. Martin composed a strongly-knit piece!

The solo part of the Beethoven Piano Concerto was performed with cool assurance and competence by Mathilde McKinney. Her reserved yet professional rendition of the concerto occasionally suffered from blurred technical passages. This is symtomatic of pedalitis, a malady which frequently afflicts the best of pianists, often described as a compulsive attraction of the right foot for the sostenuto pedal. Mrs. McKinney can easily remedy this disorder which results in a strange chord composed of a scale.

Mr. Harsanyi adeptly closed the concert with an ingratiating selection from Kodaly's Hari Janos Suite. What ever became of the rest of the Suite?

Concert for Children. A unique children's concert will be performed for pupils of the Borough and Township public schools, Miss Fine's School and Princeton Country Day on Monday. The concert, limited to students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades plus instrumental pupils from other grades is being presented through the efforts of the parent-teacher organizations and administrators of the schools involved, together with a committee from the board of directors of the Princeton Symphony.

Young Audiences, a New York organization which specializes in sending professional musicians to perform in lively, informal school concerts, has been secured for the concert. The program will be performed by the Claus Adam Trio (piano, violin and cello).

Plans are being made for a second program in March, as well as for eventual regular scheduling of concerts for children during the year. The Princeton Symphony is expecting to present some of its members in future concerts.

UNIVERSITY CONCERTS

The great Cleveland Orchestra under George Szell will make its annual appearance here on Monday, February 14, in McCarter Theatre. The concert will be the third in Series One of the University Concerts.

The performance of the Cleveland Orchestra last year was a complete sell out and a repeat is a virtual certainty. Next concert is Series Two will be Ralph Kirkpatrick, harpsichordist, on Tuesday., February 22.

McCARTER THEATRE

The single performance of Yma Sumac and her company of dancers, singers and Andean drummers set for this coming Monday night is a sellout, McCarter Theatre reports, and limited standing room will be sold 30 minutes before curtain time (promised for 8:30).

The program will include music in the Andean tradition composed by Moises Vivanco, producer-director of Miss Sumac's show. The singer with a five-octave voice will sing a wide variety of songs, romantic, religious and comic. The company of 20 will perform six dances and various musical numbers.

At the end of the week, "Bus Stop" by Pulitzer Prize-Winning William Inge will have its world premiere at the McCarter. Performances will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday (February 10-12) evenings, with a matinee Saturday at 2:30. Tickets are on sale for all performances at the University Store, Bamberger's Service Desk and the McCarter box office (tel. 9702).

Mr. Inge's three-act romance is his first since the highly successful "Picnic", which won most of the major awards on Broadway. Kim Stanley, who will star in "Bus Stop", won wide acclaim for her portrayal of the sister in "Picnic".

Miss Stanley won "stardom", however, in Horton Foote's "Traveling Lady" which had its premiere here last September. Her role in the coming show will be that of a bothered and bewildered chantuese from a fifth-rate Chicago honky-tonk, one of the collection of characters on Mr. Inge's bus.

Other featured performers will be Anthony Ross, Elaine Stritch and Jerome Courtland. The credits include Howard Clurman, one of Broadway's leading directors; Boris Aronson, settings, and Paul Morrison, costumes. The producers are Robert Whitehead and Roger L. Stevens.

CinemaScope for The Garden. A CinemaScope screen and a new sound system will be installed in The Garden theatre. The work will start immediately and is scheduled to be completed in about a month. More and more films are being made in "C-S" and with only The Playhouse equipped to exhibit them, Princeton isn't able to keep up to date with the releases.

Since The Garden is a comparatively old theatre, its deep stage will mean that the new equipment can be installed without loss of seats or major structural change. The new picture will be approximately 36 feet wide and 14 high, more than twice as wide as the screen in use a year ago.

The present optical sound system will be replaced by a new one, so that foreign and domestic films made in the standard method can be shown to better advantage. In addition, a directional stereophonic sound system with three speakers behind the screen will be installed.

THE PLAYHOUSE
Prince of Players (Feb. 3-5) offers a magnificent performance by Richard Burton as Edwin Booth, this country's first great actor. It is a film biography, and therefore slow paced, but an exceptional technical production, plus a marvelous era, career and atmosphere should overcome this defect so far as most viewers are concerned.

There are many theatrical scenes, chiefly Shakespearian, in which Burton is outstanding. Raymond Massey as Booth's mad actor-father, John Derek as John Wilkes Booth, Maggie

News Of The Theatres

McNamara and Eva Le Gallienne head a large supporting cast.

The Bridges at Toko-Ri (Feb. 6-12) is a strong filming of the James A. Michener novel of war in Korea, centering on a jet-plane mission. William Holden, Grace Kelly, Frederic March and Mickey Rooney head the cast. The story is well-rounded and handled. Technicolor. Here for a full week.

THE GARDEN

The Little Kidnappers (Feb. 3-5) is a winning British import in which a strict grandfather in rural Nova Scotia is warmed by two small grandchildren. Vincent Winter and Jon Whitley are captivating as the youngsters. Something of a gem.

Hunters of the Deep (Feb. 7-10) documents life in the ocean as filmed off the Bahamas reefs and in the coastal waters of California and Mexico. Brilliantly photographed in color, the show has suspense as well as informative and visual attraction. Playing with it is a film short on the works of Rembrandt.

Destry (Feb. 11-12) is the third version of the famous Western film, but there's not much reason to call the new one a particular improvement over the Tom Mix or the Jimmy Stewart-Marlene Dietrich filmings. Audie Murphy, Mari Blanchard and Thomas Mitchell head the cast in the sheriff and badmen go-around. Technicolor.

PRINCETON TELEVISION

Professor Erling Dorf of the University's geology department will give the next program in the "Princeton '55" television series, appearing on Sunday at 3:30 p.m. over WRCA-TV (Channel 4).

Dr. Dorf will treat "Climates of the Past," showing how geological data can aid in determining conditions which existed 50 to 100 million years ago. He will use fossils gathered on field trips in the Rocky Mountain area, particularly those found in the volcanic ashes in the northern section of Yellowstone National Park.

The series resumed this past weekend after a break of a week with Professor Joseph Brown's presentation "Shaping Things and Vice-Versa," which ranged over comments on art, sculpting, boxing and play conditions for children.

Professor Brown's models of sculpturally-designed play situations have caused considerable interest during the past few months and they naturally were the best "attention-getters" on the show. With his pleasing manner, Mr. Brown varied from simple to complicated explanations, something which unfortunately left a slight impression of uneveness in the half-hour program.

Disney Festival Planned. The Alumni Association of Miss Fine's School has planned a double Walt Disney festival for the benefit of the school. The dates have been set for Friday, February 25, at 3:30 p.m. and Saturday, February 26, at 10:30 a.m.

The February 25th festival will consist of six cartoons, while Disney's full-length picture "So Dear to My Heart" will be shown the following morning. The full-length picture uses both animation and live action to tell the story of a boy and his little black lamb. Tickets (at 35 cents) for both festivals will go on sale after Monday through Mrs. Howard White (tel. 1968-W).

Short Notes. Casting for the next production of the Dramatic Guild of Levittown, Pa., continues through this Sunday. The coming production is "Chippy," a new play written by Elna Cuenco, a radio, TV and film writer who resides in Levittown. Information may be obtained by calling Windsor 6-4950.

Helen Hayes will present "An Evening of Queens," six scenes frm various plays, on Saturday, May 7, at the Solebury School in New Hope. A number of the scenes are from plays in which Miss Hayes has starred in the past.

Sports in Princeton

Crossroads Ahead. Four games in the next eight days will go far to determine Princeton's future course in the Eastern Intercollegiate Basketball League. The Tigers head for Hanover, N. H., Saturday in an attempt to duplicate their 60-52 victory of last month over Dartmouth.

Tuesday night at 8, defending champion Cornell will be here, hoping to avert repetition of last year's loss to the Tigers. The Red was carried into a playoff largely because it lost both regular season games to Cappy Cappon's forces.

Lincoln's Birthday weekend will see the Orange and Black New England bound again, confronted with a game against Brown at Providence on Friday, February 11, and another with Harvard at Cambridge the following night. Both outfits are lodged in second division, but both could make trouble for the Princetonians, whose record prior to their mid-week set-to with Rutgers was a meagre 3-7.

Biggest league game of the current weekend is the Cornell-Pennsylvania clash at Ithaca. Both teams have identical 5-1 records that lodge them in a first-place tie. If the Quakers win, they may well be off to the races.

Following Saturday's clash between these two, Penn has five of its seven remaining games in the Palestra, and will play only Columbia and Princeton away. Cornell, on the other hand, has completed most of its home schedule and has five of its last seven contests on the road.

Other somewhat unbalanced aspects of the schedule show that whereas Yale has played eight games within the circuit to date, Princeton has been in only three. Last year, of course, the stretch run was highly beneficial to the Tigers, as they ripped off ten in a row after a very slow start.

Skaters to Providence. Princeton's hockey team is keeping a date with Brown in Providence this weekend that will find the Bruins determined to stay in the Ivy League race by trimming the Orange and Black. Given a good chance to battle Harvard down to the wire for the 1955 title, the Rhode Islanders tied the Crimson but lost to both Yale and the Tigers.

Badly disorganized because of the two-week examination period that ended last week, the Nassau sextet was a surpise victim to little American International College in Baker Rink Saturday. Hockey is not nearly as much of a form sport as swimming or track, but the fact that Army, a 6-1 victim of the Tigers, had trounced American International, 11-3, gives clear indication that the visitors' 4-3 triumph was a distinct upset.

An easy goal in the first eight seconds of play may have left the Princetonians with the impression that clear sailing was theirs for the taking. George Hackl scored almost immediately after the face off on a pass from Charlie Pratt.

Before the round was over, however, A.I.C. had counted three times and never lost the lead thereafter. Kim Townsend and Johnny Butsch narrowed the gap to 3-2 at 17:11 but the winners got this back toward the end of the second period. George Scragg's counter at 17:15 of the final round completed the scoring, with the visitors content to play defensive hockey and the Tigers unable to coordinate their efforts.

The Princetonians are still leading the league, but must win at Providence to remain on top unless Yale and Dartmouth tie at Hanover the same day. The Indians surprised the Blue with a 5-3 triumph at New Haven a fortnight ago, leaving the Tigers as pace-setters for the entire first month of league activity.

Rensselaer Polytech, annually a strong entry in eastern hockey ranks, will be here next Wednesday. The Troy skaters won last winter, 5-2, with Princeton's only victory in five games registered when All-American Hank Bothfeld was captain in 1952. Yale comes to Baker Rink next weekend for a Lincoln's Birthday matinee that promises to be action-packed.

PHS Stays Above .500. Princeton High's basketball team entertains Trenton Catholic at home this Friday and travels to Bordentown Military Institute Wednesday afternoon. Before their game with Somerville on Tuesday, the Little Tigers had a 6-4 record for the year.

Coach Tony Borzok's quintet had no trouble with Bound Brook last week, trimming the visitors by a count of 83 to 60. The PHS lead was 44-27 at half time, Marv Trotman pacing the attack with 26 points for the afternoon. Bob Montgomery, Dick Wood and Lee Ammerman were also in double figures, while Ray Cevera led the jayvees to an 82-62 triumph with 30 points.

South River rallied on its own court Friday to send the game into overtime via a 48-all deadlock and then dominated the extra session with five points while holding Princeton High to one. It was a 53-49 final.

Four of the Little Tigers' starters were in double figures, Trotman sinking 16 and Montgomery, Ammerman and Wood all providing good support. The losers had a 22-21 lead at the intermission and were in front by 37-31 after three quarters, but could not maintain their pace.

Hun Mark Is 2-7. Hun School will play a return contest at New Brunswick with Rutgers Prep on Saturday, with the Raritan entry figured to repeat its triumph of last December over the Red and Black. Hun had a 2-7 record going into the contest with Tower Hill at Wilmington on Tuesday.

Bordentown Military trimmed the Johnny Huns last week, 74-45. Jim Lavan paced the losers with 20 points.

Short Notes. Home athletic events this Saturday are limited to wrestling against Brown at 2 and swimming against Columbia at 4. The Rhode Island matmen are unbreaten, and figure to give Jimmy Reed's team a full share of competition. Howie Canoune's swimmers do not look for much trouble from the invariably weak Lions.

looks strangely bare and treeless. Our favorite is a photograph of a student's room with its deeply fringed tablecloth, student lamp, doe's head above the fireplace and an assortment of Victorian china pieces tastefully arranged on the mantel.

There is also an earnest chapter on the fortunes of Princeton's "Base-Ball Nine," in which the author tells young men to ignore those who say that base-ball is too strenuous a game for scholars. Discussing "Foot-Ball," another writer laments the introduction of "the new Rugby game to usurp the place of the time-honored game of foot-ball. The health and courage of the College," he declares, "can never be kept up by the present plan of letting 30 men do all the athletics while others stand by and watch."

The Witherspoon Art and Book Shop would like to remind owners of libraries that now is the best time to have books repaired and rebound. The work can be done in about three weeks but when late spring comes schools and colleges begin to move in on the bindery and work is slowed down.

Gathered Together. For many generations women have worked smocking patterns as an artful way to gather a yoke or a waistline. Mothers who dote on smocked dresses for little girls may now have them custom-made, color or style, with Peter Pan collar in white with lace edge, elastic sleeves for chubby arms or regular cuffs for the slim ones. Wait till you see the size ones!

Sizes 3-6 are $8.95, szies 7-14 are $12.95 and you may select your fabric from swatches at the shop. Takes about two weeks.

Taco-ma Sandwich. The makers of the Taco sandwich are not guilty of this inexcusible pun, but we couldn't resist. Taco is a Mexican sandwich made with a corn tortilla and beef filling. You may buy enough for four servings for $1.95 at the Nassau Delicatessen, 45 Palmer Square West. You get a dozen tortillas, seasoned beans in a can ready to heat, a garnish made with cheese, the cooked beef seasoned with chili and the Taco sauce. From there, you're on your own.

The Ashley Company of El Paso puts out the Taco, an Enchillada dinner and cans of various Mexican foods to mix yourself: pinto beans, tortillas, enchillada sauce and so on. Aficionados of southwest cooking will also be interested in pinon nuts, shelled and salted for cocktail munching. (A real heresy: half the fun is shelling pinons yourself.)

Fifty-four varieties of honey are in stock now at the Del, from a whole U.N. of countries and almost every state in this one. Heather honey comes, of course, from Scotland and coffee blossom honey from Central America. But did you ever sample Yucatan's honey made from the flowers of the tsitsilche and xtabentun? Sounds as though you were saying "pass the honey" with a mouth full of hot biscuits. New York State has honey made from loosestrife and a jar that says "Goldenrod" honey but Kleenex is extra.

The Trappist Monastery of St. Norbert in Manitoba has its own honey in a big, round container. South Africa sends champagne honey—there's a champagne flower?—and the good people of Phoenix, Arizona, have made some from mesquite. There's wild thyme honey from New York and fireweed honey from Washington State and some undefined honey from Rifle, Colorado, and we haven't mentioned Greece, Norway, Australia, France, Cuba . . .

For the next course, try Les Potages du Chef — dehydrated soups from Liebig-Paris, that come in foil envelopes just like American dehydrated soups. There is consomme de poulet, creme d'asperges, creme de volaille, pois du lard, potage sante.

To end on a domestic note, the Del offers Mint-It, a "pedigreed" (so they say) mint liquid from Rye Oldfarms, to flavor stews and lamb dishes and give the spine to a julep. For 65 cents you get two ounces or 682 drops, a count we are accepting on faith.

The Best Remedy for Your Virus, Cough or Cold

Is Your Doctor's Prescription

5 HOURS, NOT 3 MONTHS!

Two decades ago, it took an average of three months' wages to pay for the hospital bills resulting from a case of pneumonia. Today, a case of pneumonia is cured at home—with drugs that cost an average of only five hours' wages. That's just one of the many facts which prove that

TODAY'S PRESCRIPTION IS THE BIGGEST BARGAIN IN HISTORY!

Memo to You: We have a telephone number specially reserved for your doctor's use, so that there will be no delay in his telephoning your prescription to us.
